

The History of Australia from an Aboriginal perspective...

Yokai Australia Day Documentary aims to put an Aboriginal, and more specifically a Stolen Generations, perspective on Australia Day or "Invasion Day" as it is known in the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community.

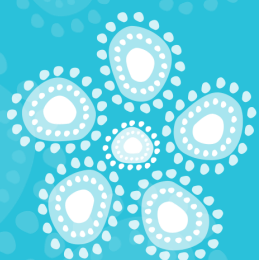

The documentary was directed by well known Aboriginal film maker, Glen Stasiuk, in collaboration with Jim Morrison who co-narrates the documentary with Noongar woman, Associate Professor Hannah McGlade. We hope to have some of the creators of this film present at the screening.
